PUMPKIN SHOW REACHES PEAK THIS EVENING

Cool Night Weather May Put Crowd Past 30,000 Mark—Parades Fine.

Using Friday's vast throng of nearly 20,000 Pumpkin Show visitors as a criterion for Saturday's crowd, it is a fair estimate that the Saturday evening crowd will reach a grand total of 30,000 persons.

Starting with Wednesday evening when the Pumpkin Show was given its official opening, the crowd which numbered 10,000 at that time has been on a steady increase until Friday it was estimated by Pumpkin Show officials to number well up to the 20,000 mark. Wednesday's crowd of 10,000 increased to 15,000 Thursday, and Friday's crowd was said to be increased easily 5,000.

Cool October weather, perfectly ideal for Pumpkin Show goes will bring the largest crowd of this year, or of the last several years, to town Saturday to see the fine exhibits and shows which have been secured by the Pumpkin Show officials.

Friday's features were the Industrial and Automobile parade at 3 p. m. which is to be shown again this afternoon. Each participant is obligated to enter the parade each of the two days to receive prizes.

COMIC PARADE GOOD
The Comic and Characterization parade at 9 p. m. Friday was another remarkable exhibition. With every kind of dress and attire that could even be imagined, marching up and down the main thoroughfares, persons who attended the show were more than satisfied with the parade.

Another feature of the four-day show—the Pet parade—was scheduled for 2:30 p. m. today.

It is expected that everything from white mice, to guinea pigs and horses will be shown in this parade.

The Laurelville Community band, led by Hugh Egan, Laurelville publisher, along with the Immel Yellowbud band will provide music throughout Saturday's activities.

The Laurelville band played several selections in front of the Herald office, Saturday morning, featured by solos by Howard Lucas, a member of the band.

Immel's band has been furnishing entertainment throughout the four days of the big show and deserved a vote of appreciation.

With the fine crowds which have been in attendance each day, the rides, the shows, and all attractions have been doing a land office business.

CLIFTON GETS PACKARD JOB

Is Given Agency For New Line In Pickaway-Fayette and Madison Counties.

Since the recent introduction of the new Packard line of eight, the sales have increased to seventh place in 11 of the larger cities of the United States. They are outsold by only two cars over $1000. Packard sold 21 percent more than all of the balance.

In keeping with this tremendous increase in sales, the Packard Co. is improving the sales and service for the benefit of their customers and have selected the Clifton Auto Sales Co. to represent them in Pickaway, Fayette and Madison counties.

The Clifton Auto Sales Co. will always have models on display here and will open service stations in the other counties. This company was selected out of the three counties because they are equipped for the sales and service Packard cars as the factory demands their customers be given the best.

Mr. Clifton has placed the sales and service of these cars under the direction of one man that all sales and service policies will be given individual attention any owner may expect to receive.

You are cordially invited to attend their exhibit at the show to display one of the new eight cylinder sedans.

Mr. Jack Valentine of Columbus visited friends in Circleville her former residence Friday.

INK MAY BE CLUE TO BEBB MURDER

COLUMBUS, O., Oct. 19.—(INS.)—A bottle of ink which had been burst and allowed to trickle to the floor, was thought to be a valuable clue today in the slaying of Lewis Bebb, 45, who was found lying dead with a bullet hole in his breast here late yesterday.

PUMPKIN SHOW REACHES PEAK THIS EVENING

Cool Night Weather May Put Crowd Past 30,000 Mark—Parades Fine.

Using Friday's vast throng of nearly 20,000 Pumpkin Show visitors as a criterion for Saturday's crowd, it is a fair estimate that the Saturday evening crowd will reach a grand total of 30,000 persons.

Starting with Wednesday evening when the Pumpkin Show was given its official opening, the crowd which numbered 10,000 at that time has been on a steady increase until Friday it was estimated by Pumpkin Show officials to number well up to the 20,000 mark. Wednesday's crowd of 10,000 increased to 15,000 Thursday, and Friday's crowd was said to be increased easily 5,000.

Cool October weather, perfectly ideal for Pumpkin Show goers will bring the largest crowd of this year, or of the last several years, to town Saturday to see the fine exhibits and shows which have been secured by the Pumpkin Show officials.

Friday's features were the Industrial and Automobile parade at 3 p. m. which is to be shown again this afternoon. Each participant is obligated to enter the parade each of the two days to receive prizes.

COMIC PARADE GOOD

The Comic and Characterization parade at 9 p. m. Friday was another remarkable exhibition. With every kind of dress and attire that could even be imagined, marching up and down the main thoroughfares, persons who attended the show were more than satisfied with the parade.

Another feature of the four-day show—the Pet parade—was scheduled for 2:30 p. m. today.

It is expected that everything from white mice, to guinea pigs and horses will be shown in this parade.

The Laurelville Community band, led by Hugh Egan, Laurelville publisher, along with the Immel Yellowbud band will provide music throughout Saturday's activities.

The Laurelville band played several selections in front of the Herald office, Saturday morning, featured by solos by Howard Lucas, a member of the band.

Immel's band has been furnishing entertainment throughout the four days of the big show and deserved a vote of appreciation.

With the fine crowds which have been in attendance each day, the rides, the shows, and all attractions have been doing a land office business.

CLIFTON GETS PACKARD JOB

Is Given Agency For New Line In Pickaway-Fayette and Madison Counties.

Since the recent introduction of the new Packard line of eight, the sales have increased to seventh place in 11 of the larger cities of the United States. They are outsold by only two cars over $1000. Packard sold 21 percent more than all of the balance.

In keeping with this tremendous increase in sales, the Packard Co. is improving the sales and service for the benefit of their customers and have selected the Clifton Auto Sales Co. to represent them in Pickaway, Fayette and Madison counties.

The Clifton Auto Sales Co. will always have models on display here and will open service stations in the other counties. This company was selected out of the three counties because they are equipped for the sales and service Packard cars as the factory demands their customers be given the best.

Mr. Clifton has placed the sales and service of these cars under the direction of one man that all sales and service policies will be given individual attention any owner may expect to receive.

You are cordially invited to attend their exhibit at the show tonight where they will have on display one of the new eight cylinder sedans.

Mrs. Jack Valentine of Columbus visited friends in Circleville her former residence Friday.

The Church Invites You

The Grandeur of Religion
Hugh Black says, "Instead of being narrow and gloomy and dismal, religion is the biggest and brightest and grandest thing that can come into a man's life, transforming every power and every energy, bathing it in peace and flooding it with joy. Lay full hold on the full consequences of faith, and go out to the tasks of your life, strengthened by the deeper power of joy."
No one wants to be narrow and gloomy and dismal; in these days when we speak the language of big things, it is inconsistent to omit the biggest and grandest thing, religion.
The one institution which specializes in religion is the church. Why not accept the invitation and COME TO CHURCH NEXT SUNDAY?

that spoil Sunday as a day of rest to others.
4. Do nothing on Sunday that will make a blue Monday. This is the culminating test for use of the Lord's day. Monday's efficiency reflects Sunday's dissipation or restoration.

A number of Filipinos on the Pacific coast have purchased Bibles from the American Bible Society recently to present to the Protestant churches in their far-away towns.
The Protestant Episcopal church has announced the completion of a fund of $100,000 to endow missionary work in Alaska as a memorial to the work done by Bishop Rowe in that country.
The William Booth Memorial Training College has just been opened near London by the Salvation Army. This college was erected at a cost of $1,700,000 and will accommodate 600 students.
Life-long dream of General William Booth is fulfilled in the erection of this institution which will offer training in every phase of useful work for the benefit of mankind.
According to recent dispatches, the Soviet Union government has abolished Sunday as a day of rest and has established the "continuous production work," by which there will always be a fraction of the nation's workmen taking a holiday while others work. This decree is an attempt to crush out the religious spirit of the people by allowing no time for Sabbath worship.
Landscape paintings of California's historic missions, placed on canvas by the priest artist, Rev. Lorenzo Capitani, an Italian, will soon become a part of the Catholic art treasures at Rome. These scenes are being painted at the request of Pope Pius, who has declared that "nowhere in the world, even in Italy is there such an abundance of beauty and material as in California." All proceeds from Father Capitani's work are given to charity and to provide tuition for young art students.

How Shall We Use Our Sundays?
"Jesus principle, 'The Sabbath was made for man and not man for the Sabbath' must be taken at its face value, according to Paul Morrison in the Western Christian Advocate." "The Master's lordship of the Sabbath is not to bolster up an institution, but for the well-being of humankind. There must be some criterion or a few simple rules to assist us in the modern use of Sunday, and at the same time help us 'Remember the Sabbath day to keep it hold.' Submit everything to these tests and many a question will be settled almost before it is raised."
1. Preserve the Lord's day for man's greatest good; put this test to various Sunday situations: Is this for man's physical, mental or spiritual good?
2. God must be honored if the day is to be hallowed. Sunday at its best must have worship at its center, for man's sake, not as segment of its circumference.
3. The use of Sunday should show consideration for others. People thoughtlessly do things

Autumn—A Prayer.
"As the beauty of the fall is upon us, with its myriad of combinations, in surpassing beauty of color and design, so, Our Father, would we pray that thy loveliness may claim our varied lives, and beautify each according to the quality of our worth at the disposal of thy will. Show us thy glory, we pray thee, that we may revel in it, as we do in the manifestations of nature. May the pure air of heavenly places breathe health-giving power and beauty into our depleted and shapeless lives. Out of the fragmentaries of our experiences, so desperately provincial, bring us into the unity of the sons of God."

KEEPING FIT FOR THE SAKE OF OTHERS, DANIEL 8:1-20 FOR SUNDAY, OCT. 13
1. Give instances of strong purposes formed by great men.
2. What was the teaching of St. Paul as to eat and drink?
3. What should youth do when society demands conduct and practice which violate moral and Christian principles? Why?
4. How much is involved in keeping fit?
5. What has keeping fit to do with prohibition?
6. What has given meaning to the phrase "Dare to be a Daniel"?
Dr. Charles Jefferson says, "You must put your body under discipline; you cannot eat just what you please; you must put your body under discipline; you cannot must eat the things that are good for you. You cannot neglect any part of your body; if you do, you will be crippled for life. The newspapers reported that four out of every five of the young men of this country who offered themselves to the army during the world war were rejected because they were physically unfit!"
Lesson Prayer, "Give us a higher appreciation of our possible physical powers that we may develop and preserve the health and vigor that will furnish the needed co-operation for a strong mental and religious life capable of the highest service to others."

The Grandeur of Religion

Hugh Black says, "Instead of being narrow and gloomy and dismal, religion is the biggest and brightest and grandest thing that can come into a man's life, transforming every power and every energy, bathing it in peace and flooding it with joy. Lay full hold on the full consequences of faith, and go out to the tasks of your life, strengthened by the deeper power of joy."

No one wants to be narrow and gloomy and dismal; in these days when we speak the language of big things, it is inconsistent to omit the biggest and grandest thing, religion.

The one institution which specializes in religion is the church. Why not accept the invitation and COME TO CHURCH NEXT SUNDAY?

Character Like Homes.

There lived at Lockport, N. Y., a member of Congress who wanted to provide a home for his faithful servant girl who was about to marry a rather shiftless carpenter. The senator thought it a good plan to give the contract for the building of the house to this carpenter that he might prove himself worthy of her and learn a needed lesson.

The senator left for Washington and the carpenter spun out his work through all the fall, winter and spring, cheating the Congressman in every way he could. In both materials and workmanship the house was a botch job.

When it was finished, the carpenter said, "There isn't a better house on Pioneer Hill than that new house of yours."

"Very well," replied the senator, "Here is the deed for it—a gift to yourself and wife. So you see you will have a good home as long as you live."

The carpenter learned that he

How Shall We Use Our Sundays?

"Jesus principle, The Sabbath was made for man and not man for the Sabbath," must be taken at its face value, according to Paul Morrison in the Western Christian Advocate. "The Master's lordship of the Sabbath is not to bolster up an institution, but for the well-being of humankind. There must be some criterion or a few simple rules to assist us in the modern use of Sunday, and at the same time help us 'Remember the Sabbath day to keep it hold.' Submit everything to these tests and many a question will be settled almost before it is raised."

1. Preserve the Lord's day for man's greatest good; put this test to various Sunday situations: Is this for man's physical, mental or spiritual good?

2. God must be honored if the day is to be hallowed. Sunday at its best must have worship at its center, for man's sake, not as segment of its circumference.

3. The use of Sunday should show consideration for others. People thoughtlessly do things that spoil Sunday as a day of rest to others.

4. Do nothing on Sunday that will make a blue Monday. This is the culminating test for use of the Lord's day. Monday's efficiency reflects Sunday's dissipation or restoration.

A number of Filipinos on the Pacific coast have purchased Bibles from the American Bible Society recently to present to the Protestant churches in their far-away towns.

The Protestant Episcopal church has announced the completion of a fund of $100,000 to endow missionary work in Alaska as a memorial to the work done by Bishop Rowe in that country.

The William Booth Memorial Training College has just been opened near London by the Salvation Army. This college was erected at a cost of $1,700,000 and will accommodate 600 students. life-long dream of General William Booth is fulfilled in the erection of this institution which will offer training in every phase of useful work for the benefit of mankind.

According to recent dispatches, the Soviet Union government has abolished Sunday as a day of rest and has established the "continuous production work," by which there will always be a fraction of the nation's workmen taking a holiday while others work. This decree is an attempt to crush out the religious spirit of the people by allowing no time for Sabbath worship.

Landscape paintings of California's historic missions, placed on canvas by the priest artist, Rev. Lorenzo Capitani, an Italian, will soon become a part of the Catholic art treasures at Rome. These scenes are being painted at the request of Pope Pius, who has declared that "nowhere in the world, even in Italy is there such an abundance of beauty and material as in California." All proceeds from Father Capitani's work are given to charity and to provide tuition for young art students.

Autumn—A Prayer.

"As the beauty of the fall is upon us, with its myriad of combinations, in surpassing beauty of color and design, so, Our Father, would we pray that thy loveliness may claim our varied lives, and beautify each according to the quality of our worth at the disposal of thy will. Show us thy glory, we pray thee, that we may revel in it, as we do in the manifestations of nature. May the pure air of heavenly places breathe health-giving power and beauty into our depleted and shapeless lives. Out of the fragmentaries of our experiences, so desperately provincial, bring us into the unity of the sons of God."

KEEPING FIT FOR THE SAKE OF OTHERS, DANIEL 8:1-20 FOR SUNDAY, OCT. 13

1. Give instances of strong purposes formed by great men.
2. What was the teaching of St. Paul as to eat and drink?
3. What should youth do when society demands conduct and practice which violate moral and Christian principles? Why?
4. How much is involved in keeping fit?

5. What has keeping fit to do with prohibition?

6. What has given meaning to the phrase "Dare to be a Daniel"?
Dr. Charles Jefferson says, "You must put your body under discipline; you cannot eat just what you please; you must put your body under discipline; you cannot must eat the things that are good for you. You cannot neglect any part of your body; if you do, you will be crippled for life. The newspapers reported that four out of every five of the young men of this country who offered themselves to the army during the world war were rejected because they were physically unfit!"

Lesson Prayer, "Give us a higher appreciation of our possible physical powers that we may develop and preserve the health and vigor that ill furnish the needed co-operation for a strong mental and religious life capable of the highest service to others."

OHIO WESLEYAN-MIAMI HOLD STATE GRIDIRON SPOTLIGHT

Favor Miami to Win Dedication Contest—Scalpers Get $50 Per Ticket For State Michigan Game—Ohio U Should Take Muskingum Contest.

By JACK VINCENT
COLUMBUS, O., Oct. 19.—Station FOOTBALL now broadcasting on the immensely popular wave length.
Folks, there is a stupendous program for this afternoon. Eighteen games are on tap.
Leading the list, fans, is the Ohio Wesleyan-Miami tilt at Delaware which will dedicate Selby field there. Governor Myers Y. Cooper and his military escort will be present. It will be a bitterly fought contest. The weather is ideal, except perhaps a trifle warm for the hardy sport. A last minute hunch prompts the announcer to predict that the Big Red team from Oxford will win from the Battling, now Battered Bishops.
Next, dear invisible audience, there is the Ohio State-Michigan game at Ann Arbor. It is the 26th renewal of an old feud. The Wolverines are a slight favorite except out here in Ohio, where the sun always shines. More than 85,000 persons will witness the classic. Ticket scalpers are busy at the town of Ann Arbor waiting for a pre-game frenzy. Ducats sold as high as $50.
OHIO U. AT MUSKINGUM
Ohio University storms New Concord to participate in the home-coming game at Muskingum college. The Bobcats from Athens will undoubtedly win.
Columbus fans will have a chance to witness two games even though Ohio State is playing marbles away from home. The Michigan Reserves met the Ohio Reserves in the huge Ohio stadium. Hiram comes here to play Capital and Hiram should return home with a scalp hanging from its belt.

The Western Reserve-Akron game should attract a goodly sized crowd. Akron hasn't been scored upon this year. Western Reserve has a fast team, but Akron is good, too powerful, the announcer thinks, for the Cleveland aggregation.

ASHVILLE GRIDDERS WIN BY 25-7 SCORE

Trounce Canal Winchester Friday When Malone, Costlow, Cook Run Well.

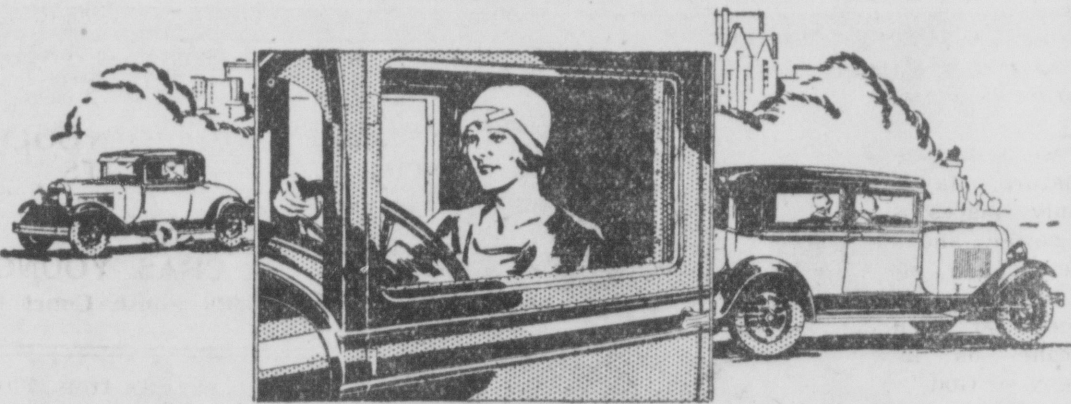

Ashville's high school football team which seems stronger this season than it has been in several years, stepped out to defeat Canal Winchester gridders, at Ashville, Friday, by the score of 25 to 7.
Tom Malone, Costlow, and Cook led the offensive for the Ashville team.

COMFORT FOR WOMEN WHO DRIVE

Thousands of women are finding in Oldsmobile those priceless elements of driving comfort so necessary to pleasure and ease of mind in motoring.

There's Oldsmobile's driver's seat, for example... adjustable down to the fraction of an inch, to assure just the right reach to pedals and steering wheel! And a steering wheel that's movable to the exact position for perfect arm comfort and free vision. Clutch and brake pedals are comfortable to operate both because their action is easy and because they are faced with cushions of rubber, assuring a firm "grip."

Gear changing in Oldsmobile is accomplished quickly and quietly... with the tips of the fingers. And the lightest touch on the steering wheel assures perfect control.

Too, Oldsmobile's large, flat, pad-type accelerator enables the driver to accelerate smoothly and confidently... even when high-heeled shoes are worn. Positive-acting four-wheel brakes give a feeling of absolute security.

These splendid performance abilities, combined with the smartness and luxury of Fisher coachwork, round out a motor car that stands, in many respects, as an acknowledgment to the desires and needs of the thousands of women who today drive their own automobiles.

Come in today and let us explain all of Oldsmobile's fine car features of driving comfort. Drive one of these beautiful cars and judge its qualities for yourself. You will know then why so many women are selecting Oldsmobile as the family car, or the car for their own personal use.

And then, in addition to all these features, there is Oldsmobile's famous 62-horsepower engine, assuring a smooth, quiet flow of power for nimble threading of traffic or effortless hill climbing.

THIRTEEN may be an unlucky number but the above "Baker's Dozen" may disprove this superstition before the football season is over.

These men represent some of the first-string talent that Coach Sam S. Willman must depend on this season at Ohio State. At the center post are Fred Barratt and David Carter of last year's team, while Joe Ujhelyi and William Griffith were regular guards in 1928.

The tackle duties will be shared by Richard Larkins, Richard Follett and La Verne Reboulet. Larkins and Reboulet saw service last fall while Follett is a sophomore.

Wesley Fessler, All-American last season, has hopes of retaining his honors at end. Albert Hess and Charles Coffee are back fighting for halfback positions, while it is possible that Allen Holman, last year's regular quarter, may also be played at half. Stuart Holcomb and Donald McClure are putting up a battle for the fullback assignment. Holcomb is in his first year of varsity competition, while McClure is a senior.

Light's Golden Jubilee 1879-1929

ON October twenty-first, 1879, Thomas A. Edison achieved what was probably the greatest triumph of his splendid career. For a long time inventors had been trying vainly to produce a practical incandescent electric lamp. On that day, fifty years ago, Edison proved that he had discovered the correct principle.

By reason of Edison's great inventions cities have been transformed; homes have been made more beautiful, more comfortable, more healthful; travel has become safer and more enjoyable; enlightenment has spread; amusements have multiplied, the opportunities for useful employment have been widened immeasurably; and conveniences that were unknown to our grandparents have become innumerable.

Throughout every civilized country there is reason for rejoicing because of the achievement that is being celebrated in this year of Light's Golden Jubilee

On October 21, for the first time in the history of radio, a program will be broadcast through an international hook-up. Don't miss this Great Lights Golden Jubilee Program.

THE ERA OF SPECULATION

Even if the present liquidation in the stock market were more severe and the panicky sentiment could not be checked, there would be no sound reason for fearing anything like a financial or industrial collapse. Fundamental conditions are nearly as promising as ever.

Without minimizing the follies and dangers of unbridled speculation in the stock exchanges, one can make a reassuring statement concerning the general outlook throughout the United States. Virtually all of the "indicators" of the state of business continue to show that sound conditions prevail and that prosperity has not been seriously interfered with by the gyrations of the stock market. The main justification for confidence lies in the fact that the immense activity in the stock market, often showing signs, as it has, of recklessness, has been, after all, an isolated thing. Not yet, at any rate, has it come to seem vitally connected with manufacturing, transportation and agriculture.

Whatever may be said of the prices of securities, the prices of commodities have remained stationary. So soon as the stock exchanges and the general body of investors take counsel of experience and of common sense and settle down to something like stability, the slight handicap which excessive speculation has placed upon the country will be removed.

Refugee Churches

There is another refugee church besides the one at Austin Friars, London. A chapel in the crypt of Canterbury cathedral has been used by the Huguenots ever since Queen Elizabeth granted them a charter. The weavers who were among the refugees were allowed to use a portion of the crypt to set up their looms, and they used it for that purpose for many years. From time to time attempts have been made by the cathedral authorities to have the Huguenots removed from the precincts of the cathedral, but they have always failed to do so. The service is conducted in the French language by a minister in quaint medieval gown.

Famous Valley

The Yosemite valley is seven miles long. Its floor averages one mile in width, its walls rising from 3,000 to 4,000 feet. It was discovered in 1851 and was named after the Indians who dwell there.

Inconsiderate Man

She—"Yes, I've broken our engagement. Just think, last night he took me to a show and tells me it's a tragedy. For two whole acts he lets me sit there and weep, and finally, in the third act, he tells me the whole thing is a farce. I'm through with him."

Different Matter

A man and a boy were walking along a quiet street when the former bent down and picked up a glove lying on the road.
"There's nothing like honesty, my son," he remarked, as he placed the glove beside some railings.
A hundred yards farther on they encountered a second glove.
"Goodness me!" ejaculated the man, as he picked it up and tried it on; "if this isn't the neighbor of the first one—and just my fit. Hurry back, Jimm, and fetch the other."

How Blood Travels

Assuming the heart to beat 69 times a minute at ordinary heart pressure, the blood courses through the veins at the rate of 207 yards a minute, or seven miles an hour, 168 miles a day, and 61,320 miles a year. If a man eighty-four years of age could have one single blood corpuscle floating in his blood all his life it would have traveled in that time nearly 5,156,000 miles.

Sympathy

The building was on fire where a woman's husband was employed. She called her friend to the telephone to relieve her anxiety. "Oh, Mabel, did you know about the fire?" said the excited wife. "If it burns down Joe will be out of a job and we will have to come and eat with you." "Well, I hope it don't burn down," was the sympathetic reply.

The Real Thing Last

The duke of Cambridge when in Rome paid a visit to the pope, from which he returned greatly impressed. "I don't hold," he afterward remarked, "with all this spoliation of the pope; tomorrow they will be robbing the king, and the day after, they'll be wanting to rob me." From "Reminiscences," by Sir Vincent Corbett.

Napoleon's Consort

Constant, Napoleon's valet de chambre, described the Empress Josephine as a lady of middle size, "exquisitely shaped and with an elasticity of motion which gave her an aerial appearance. She had magnificent hair and eyebrows and dark-blue eyes, and her expression was full of sentiment and kindness."

Watch the Little Things

A little neglect may breed great mischief. For want of a nail the shoe was lost, for want of the shoe the rider was lost—being overtaken and slain by an enemy—all for want of care about a horseshoe nail.—Benjamin Franklin.

Always One Smaller

Electrons are so small, investigators tell us, that 50,000,000 of them could be put on the point of a pin. Yet there are no limits to smallness. Doubtless among that 50,000,000 there could be a point so small that one electron could sit on it and say, "Ouch!"

Trail of Diamonds

Because diamonds are frequently found in glacial debris in the Great Lakes region, geologists believe there is a huge diamond deposit in the vicinity of Hudson bay. Search for it has been futile because of glacial rock covering territory.

World's Many Languages

It is estimated that 2,975 languages are spoken throughout the world. This number includes the many barbaric means of expression used in obscure places. Of the 800 distinctive languages existing today 48 are current in Europe.

"Dry" by Public Opinion

Temperance problems cause no trouble in Afghanistan, for the country is "dry" of its own free will. That is to say, there is no law against the sale or consumption of intoxicants, but public opinion is against it.

Dismissed With Doubt

A German psychologist says that perfume has played an important part in the growth of kindness in this world of ours, but, then, it may just be an old sentimentalist.—New York Evening Post.

Long in Charitable Work

The oldest charity society in this country is the German society, which was founded in 1784. It provides medical service, a free employment service and an immigration service.

Millions in Hats

The felt hat industry is an important one in Great Britain. A capital of nearly $50,000,000 is represented and about 10,000 workers are employed in the various plants.

To Pack Flowers

When sending choice flowers a long distance, cut silts in potatoes, put stems well in, and the flowers will keep fresh for 14 days.

The expression "the long and the short of it" is never better understood than when a man longs for money when he is short of it.

War's Coinage of Words

Doctor Vizetelly has estimated the number of new words the World war added to the English language to be less than 10,000.

Blue Blood And Red

by ROBERT TERRY SHANNON

WHAT HAS GONE BEFORE.

Eddie Regan, once a member of a New York gang, has broken away and gone to Virginia, where he betrays Penfield Paradine, who dies and leaves all his possessions to Eddie. Eddie had been in love with Bernice Veressi, "gang girl," but all thought of her is lost when he meets and falls in love with Marian Thorndike, each other. Eddie, discouraged, goes to Richmond, where he meets Mike Arno, a former member of the gang, who tries to persuade him to return to New York and Bernice. Eddie refuses and returns to his farm. He goes to dinner at the Thorndike home, and Mr. Thorndike questions him as to his past. Bernice Veressi comes to Eddie home and informs him she has come to stay.

Now Go On with the Story

CHAPTER XXXVIII
It all seemed so elemental to her that Eddie, in a moment of despair, wondered if it would be humanly possible for her to understand—even faintly—the discrimination, the rigid proprieties, of a conventional society, the like of which Bernice Veressi in her crowded life had never known. She was a child of the pavements, an exotic flower of the asphalt. She had come from the crawling depths where passion was virtue and chastity a myth; yet there was nothing promiscuous about her—she was a creature of violent preferences and, in a sense that really few could understand, she was, according to her own code, undefiled in her warm beauty.

He hesitated, touched by her humility, and reluctant to wound her pride; still, a sharp clean thrust was the way of mercy. "You can't stay here," Eddie said, grimly, "because I don't want you. I don't care for you the way I used to think I did." She was less sensitive that he had imagined. "You're not telling me a thing, Eddie," she returned. "The minute you came in the room I knew I wasn't handing you any of the old kick. There used to be sparks in the air when we came together—and there'll be sparks again. Everything will come back to us—it's got to!"

He tried to explain: "We couldn't get away with that stuff, even if we wanted to in a place like this. These people down here are different from the ways of the old mob back home. If anybody would try to pull off something—man or woman alike—they'd be disgraced. It's a community that won't stand for any foolishness, everybody knows everybody else and it's impossible, absolutely impossible, to get away with anything. If you were to stay in this house we'd both probably be arrested by the sheriff." She leaned forward, her lips parted. "Do you mean to say you'd let these hicks run your life?"

"They're not hicks, Bernice, they're regular people—they get married, they go to church. I like them a million times better than the wise mob in New York—and I'm getting to be one of them." "Oh, Eddie—!" Her voice throbbed and strained—"I could give you as much more than any other girl could! Don't let yourself run after some dame that don't know whether she wants you or not! Can't you see—you don't have to chase after anybody—nobody could love you like I will. . . . I'm a fool about you, Eddie. . . ."

He was humiliated at her lack of restraint. For a woman to bare her heart like that was an awful thing—"I couldn't make you happy," he said, nervously. "You'd be disappointed—and it would ruin my whole life."

He got out of the chair with a feeling that as long as he sat there he would be pilloried. "You think I'd drag you down—is that it?" He was silent. "Mike Arno told me you inherited some property," Bernice said, slowly. "He told me you'd turned farmer—but I can't believe it. Just now you said something about a girl; is there some dame down here, Eddie?" She might as well know the truth. "Yes." "What's she like—tell me?" He shrugged. "We can leave her out of the argument." "You going to marry her?" "Maybe." "Has she given you the 'yes,' yet?" "Not yet."

He could see the welling up of a dense, hungry unhappiness in her dark eyes. She was like a prisoner, desperately, pleading with an implacable judge. "Oh, Eddie—!" Her voice throbbed and strained—"I could give you as much more than any other girl could! Don't let yourself run after some dame that don't know whether she wants you or not! Can't you see—you don't have to chase after anybody—nobody could love you like I will. . . . I'm a fool about you, Eddie. . . ."

Then, at once, the sinuous, silky figure of the girl flew to him—he was enmeshed, helplessly, in the entanglement of her caresses.

A saint, possibly, might have been able, at once, to repel the uncontrolled caresses, the endearing embracement and violent kisses that the dark, enraptured girl forced so heedlessly upon the man of her choice.

Absolutely vanished was the feminine prerogative of coyness; present was the older instinct of love making by contact. Eddie's arms automatically masculine, gridded her; her kisses, exquisitely sensitive, warmed his lips and sent, despite his struggle for poise, wild, swirling madges rushing tumultuously through burning vein-currents.

For glowing moments he was bewildered by the cauldron blast of emotion and there were no thoughts in his mind—nothing but colors and warmth and disorganization.

THEATRES

DICK BARTHELMLESS

Following close upon the heels of the tremendous success of "Weaver River" and "Drag," comes "Young Nowheres," the newest First National and Vitaphone starring production for Richard Barthelmess. It opens at the Clifton Theatre, Sunday, Monday and Tuesday.

Barthelmess proved a sensation in his first audible production, "Weary River," which is still breaking records throughout the country; then he followed that with "Rag," which proved highly popular with press and public.

"Young Nowheres" is entirely in dialogue. Frank Lloyd, who directed the first two Barthelmess talkies, wielded the metaphorical megaphone on "Young Nowheres."

Because of her lovely work in "Out of the Ruins," Marion Nixon was awarded the role of the girl in "Young Nowheres," one of the most coveted roles of the year. Bert Roach and Anders Randolph play important roles. The story was adapted to the screen by Bradley King from the short story by I. A. R. Wylie.

This showing is the first in the State of Ohio.

MOTHER'S BOY

Morton Downey, Broadway's most famous tenor, sings several of his popular songs in the Pathe all dialogue picture production, "Mother's Boy," which will be on view at the Met theatre for three days beginning on Sunday. The theme song which he sings with splendid effect at the bedside of his supposedly dying mother is "I'll Always Be Mother's Boy," and there were few dry eyes among the watchers during the filming of the scene at the Pathe sound studio in New York.

Another popular song rendered by Mr. Downey in the fashionable cabaret scene in the picture, is "The World is Yours and Mine." In his love scene with Helen Chandler, who plays opposite him, he sings, with fine expression, "There'll be You and I."

COLLEGE LOVE

All the witty wise-cracks so inseparable from life on the campus are actually heard during the screening of "College Love," the first Carl Laemmle, Jr., feature production of the collegian characters, which comes to the Grand Theatre on Sunday, Monday and Tuesday. The picture, which presents the leading trio of George Lewis, Dorothy Gulliver and Eddie Phillips, who have become so well known through their shorter "collegian" films, in the principal roles, has completed sound synchronization throughout even including the football game which provides the exciting climax.

MUTT AND JEFF

Entirely new adventures, new diversions, new features and an environment of originality, coupled with the merriest of tunes, gaiety and laughter, are promised in the latest triumph, "Mutt and Jeff's Honeymoon," which is to be the offering at the Grand Theatre, Circleville, for one evening performance only, Tuesday night, Oct. 24.

Government Stages $1,000,000 Raid

Manny Kessler (left), of New York, alleged to be one of the directing heads of the huge liquor ring, which was completely put out of action when Federal and New Jersey agents swept along the New Jersey coast and captured an arsenal, wireless plant, numerous storehouses and thirty prisoners including Kessler and several notorious gunmen. William J. Calhoun, newly appointed New Jersey Prohibition director (right) was in charge of the carefully planned coup, which was the outcome of months of investigation of the ring's activities. The tip was disclosed by the interception of a mysterious wireless message from an unidentified station. Federal agents finally located the station, learned the code and used the rum-runner's own sending station to trap a large rum-runner.

The famous Bud Fisher cartoon creations from all accounts are at their best, providing the kind of fun and entertainment long sought by a public craving for something different and ever welcome when it is served in wholesome and palatable fashion. This time little Jeff leads his pal and co-conspirator into a domestic mess from which Mutt just barely manages to extricate himself.

His Eyes Cried for Daddy A little three-year-old boy, very much a daddy boy, was left at home when the father went out of town for a few days. Sunday came and the mother took the small boy to church with her, providing the usual amusement—paper, pencils and pictures.

Everything went well until the brief pause that just precedes the sermon. Then a small hand patted the mother's arm to attract attention and a grave little face, with trembling lips and burning eyes, was raised to hers as a baby voice piped: "Mother, I'm afraid these eyes are going to cry for daddy." And they did.—Indianapolis News

PRESIDENT'S FAVOR CLUB

In the student's letter column this week the presidents of the different classes voice their opinions concerning the proposed "Pep Club" and school band.
Malcolm Russell, president of the seniors, being too busy at the senior Pumpkin Show booth to give an interview suggested: "It seems a good idea and the seniors are back of it."

To the Junior Class:
It is supposed that you have read the October 12 issue of the Red and Black.

Contained in that issue were suggestions for two very important school activities. They were named, a band and a pep club. I would like to have any Junior with musical ability to volunteer his services in behalf of the band. Your business is to organize promptly. Every junior who owns one part of a partitition to C. H. S. should visit the president of the Tigers and ask for a Pep Club. The duty of this club is to follow our team through victory or defeat and cheer like nobody's business. Show your enthusiasm. Boost your school. I ask you, Juniors, to show results.
Signed,
Robert Rooney, Pres.

Dear Sophomores:
You have probably read in last week's paper of the proposed Pep Club and Band.

Now to make this a real successful year let's all get busy. We want the co-operation of every student in this class.

Where is your enthusiasm? Other schools have such organizations. Why can't we?

It is now up to you students to show your good old school spirit, to make this club a great success. All sophomore members of the orchestra have consented to give their time in the band.

Dorothy Reigel, Soph. Pres.
To the Freshman Class:

The way to form a Pep Club and band is to show some pep on nights we have a rally. If you can't be present at the rally you will of course attend the game, and there you can show your pep by giving out cheers. The cheers that you give out will put pep in your team that is out there fighting for the honor of Circleville high school. If you have pep you will be a success in school activities.

So let's all boost Circleville High school's Pep club.

Gaines Hill,
Freshman Pres

CLASS WAR ENDS WEDNESDAY
All boys of Circleville high school were called into conference Wednesday morning to reach some sort of an agreement regarding the class flag fight which was held on the streets of Circleville, Tuesday evening.

The two principal contenders, the juniors and the seniors, reached an agreement by which it was understood that all flags were to be removed and that henceforth there should be no more class fights.

The boys of the two classes gave their word of honor that the agreement would be obeyed. Principal Gephart accepted the agreement and asked that from now on that all rivalry between the two classes cease forever.

BAKE SALE PROFITS
Seniors cleared $31.60 at the bake sale which they held last Saturday at the city building.

SCHOOLS DISMISSED
All schools in Circleville were dismissed Thursday noon, so that the students might attend the Pumpkin Show.

HOW TO READ THE REPORT

The first report card for this year will be given out next Wednesday. This report gives the teacher's best estimate of the work being done by the pupil. The report includes the record for the first seven weeks in scholarship, attendance and behavior. Each parent can see by this report how the work of his child compares with the work being done by the other pupils of the class. The pupils own mark is given for each subject in the first row of marks. The second row of marks montins the class median for each subject. The class median is that mark at which one-half of the class stands above and the other one-half of the class stands below. The third row of marks indicates the highest mark made in each of the subjects, and the fourth row of marks indicates the lowest mark made in each subject by any pupil in the class.

By this report the parent can see at a glance how his child's standing compares with the other children of the class. It can be seen how much below or above the average of the class, which is shown by the class median, his child is. It can also be seen by the parent, by comparing with the lowest mark, how near the foot of the class his child is.

This comparison should be made by the parent before signing the report.

PRESIDENT'S FAVOR CLUB

In the student's letter column this week the presidents of the different classes voice their opinions concerning the proposed "Pep Club" and school band.

Malcolm Russell, president of the seniors, being too busy at the senior Pumpkin Show booth to give an interview suggested: "It seems a good idea and the seniors are back of it."

To the Junior Class:
It is supposed that you have read the October 12 issue of the Red and Black.

Contained in that issue were suggestions for two very important school activities. They were, named, a band and a pep club. I would like to have any Junior with musical ability to volunteer his services in behalf of the band. Your business is to organize promptly. Every junior who owes one part of patriotism to C. H. S. should visit the president of the Tigers and ask for a Pep Club. The duty of this club is to follow our team through victory or defeat and cheer like nobody's business. Show your enthusiasm. Boost your school. I ask you, Juniors, to show results.

Signed,
Robert Rooney, Pres.

Dear Sophomores:
You have probably read in last week's paper of the proposed Pep Club and Band.

Now to make this a real successful year let's all get busy. We want the co-operation of every student in this class.

Where is your enthusiasm? Other schools have such organizations. Why can't we?

It is now up to you students to show your good old school spirit, to make this club a great success. All sophomore members of the orchestra have consented to give their time in the band.

Dorothy Reigel, Soph. Pres.
To the Freshman Class:

The way to form a Pep Club and band is to show some pep on nights we have a rally. If you can't be present at the rally you will of course attend the game, and there you can show your pep by giving out cheers. The cheers that you give out will put pep in your team that is out there fighting for the honor of Circleville high school. If you have pep you will be a success in school activities.

So let's all boost Circleville High school's Pep club.

Gaines Hill,
Freshman Pres.

CLASS WAR ENDS WEDNESDAY
All boys of Circleville high school were called into conference Wednesday morning to reach some sort of an agreement regarding the class flag fight which was held on the streets of Circleville, Tuesday evening.

The two principal contenders, the juniors and the seniors, reached an agreement by which it was understood that all flags were to be removed and that henceforth there should be no more class fights.

The boys of the two classes gave their word of honor that the agreement would be obeyed. Principal Gephart accepted the agreement and asked that from now on that all rivalry between the two classes cease forever.

BAKE SALE PROFITS
Seniors cleared $31.60 at the bake sale which they held last Saturday at the city building.

SCHOOLS DISMISSED
All schools in Circleville were dismissed Thursday noon, so that the students might attend the Pumpkin Show.

HOW TO READ THE REPORT

The first report card for this year will be given out next Wednesday. This report gives the teacher's best estimate of the work being done by the pupil. The report includes the record for the first seven weeks in scholarship, attendance and behavior. Each parent can see by this report how the work of his child compares with the work being done by the other pupils of the class. The pupils own mark is given for each subject in the first row of marks. The second row of marks montins the class median for each subject. The class median is that mark at which one-half of the class stands above and the other one-half stands below. The third row of marks indicates the highest mark made in each of the subjects, and the fourth row of marks indicates the lowest mark made in each subject by any pupil in the class.

By this report the parent can see at a glance how his child's standing compares with the other children of the class. It can be seen how much below or above the average of the class, which is shown by the class median, his child is. It can also be seen by the parent by comparing with the lowest mark, how near the foot of the class his child is.

This comparison should be made by the parent before signing the report.

TIMER PURCHASED

A new stop watch or "timer" has been purchased by Principal Gephart to be used in timing all athletic contests.

This timer was purchased from A. G. Spalding and Co., of Columbus and will record time as low as one-fifth of a second.

MET DECORATED

The Metropolitan theater has been beautifully decorated with Red and Black streamers and banners, which are the colors of the local school.

The Tiger squad and the students of the C. H. S. appreciate Mr. Hatcher's courtesy.

SMITH IS EDITOR

Probably many of his friends at C. H. S. will be surprised to hear that Eugene Smith '27 is the editor in chief of the "Hour Glass," weekly paper of St. Mary's College of St. Marys, Kansas. "Gene" also acts as a reporter for the semi-monthly weekly of the same school.

"STUDENTS FURNISH HOME"

Junior and senior domestic science classes are going to study "The House and It's Care" by Mathews. While studying this book they will make a manual in which they will keep a budget, and furnish (by pictures) a five-room house or apartment. They will be limited to a certain amount of money with which to furnish this home as their home management problem.

TIGERS TO MEET WASHINGTON.

The Circleville Tigers will meet Washington C. H. high school Thursday on the Tigers' gridiron. Washington and Circleville are old rivals and the Tigers are out to make up for last season's defeat.

Reactor will probably be back in his old position after being absent, due to injuries received in the Frankfort game.

Washington gave the Tigers a real trouncing last year, but big things are expected of the Tigers this season's game.
